THE SPEAKERSHIP.

Mr. Kerr is practically out of the race for the Speakership.—Troy Whig (rep.)
Our whole heart and we believe that of the Virgini people is for Samuel J. Randall. - Fredericksburg (Va.) Star (dem.)

It is understood that the Pennsylvania delegation will vote solidly for Mr. Randall .- Philadelphia Inquirer (rep.) The West and the South can elect the man of their choice, who should be one devoted to their interests --Plattsburg (Mo.) Lever (dem.)

The member who votes for Kerr will be unable to explain his position satisfactorily to his constituents.

In the contest for the Speakership Mr. Randall's prospects have improved materially within a lew days. - New London Telegram (rep.) It is refreshing to witness a canvasz for the Speakership conducted upon the high ground of principle, without log-rolling or combination of personal interests or private schemes .- Albany Argus (dem.) The Albany Argus, after the above, quotes from the Washington correspondence of the New York Times:-"It is quite safe to predict that Mr. Kerr will not be the Speaker of the House."

Mr. Randall is our own choice for the Speakership. wet the South stand by him as he has stood by her and her representatives in the House will be united for him. - Richmond Whig (dem.)

The real struggle will be between the friends of Samuel J. Randall, of Pennsylvania, and M. C. Kerr, of Indiana, with the chances largely in favor of Mr. Rau-dali.—Philadelphia Inquirer (rep.)

Mr. Kerr insists on the right of public men to change their opinions with a fervor indicating a belief on his part that a fresh assortment of convictions is rather a andy thing to have in the house for an emergency .-Chicago Times (ind. rep.)

A vote for Kerr for Speaker is a vote for worse stagnation of business and the final bankruptcy of the people at the West. It becomes the duty of the people to Plattsburg (Mo.) Lever (dem.)

The people of the country do not believe that Mr. Randall has made any pledges, though it is easy for them to conceive that pledges of support have been honorably made to that distinguished gentleman .-Wilmington (N. C.) Star (dem.) It looks to us as if Randall, of Pennsylvania, comes nearer the model than any other man whose candidacy is probable or practicable. He has the ability and confisence of the party; he would act impartially, and that is all we demand .- Plattsburg (Mo.) Lever (dem.) Mr. Randall is a thorough-going democrat, but he is as honorable an enemy as the republicans ever had in the House. It would be unjust to call him a partisan, for he is not one in the new meaning of the word, being more for country than party.-Philadelphia In The story that Governor Hendricks is assisting Mr.

Kerr into the Speaker's chair is decidedly diaphanous. It is well enough that such an impression as that should get abroad, but Governor Hendricks knows too well the effect of putting too much Indiana paper on the market, -- Cincinnati Enquirer (dem.) Mr. Randall has always voted against any further issue of paper currency and against the granting of subsidies. He was one of the few Pennsylvania memers of the last House who voted against the bill to guarantee the bonds of the Texas Pacific Railroad Com pany.—Washington Correspondent Philadelphia Ledger. Mr. Kerr says he may have been an inflationist, but he has changed his views, as is his right. Yes, and the difficulty is that he may exercise his right to change them again and get back to his original fundamental position. Our faith in Mr. Kerr's consistency of conviction has received a rude shock within the last two weeks.—Cincinnati Times (rep.)

It is reported that Governor Hendricks has formed an alliance with Mr. Kerr to hoist him into the Speaker's chair. Indiana is getting very ambitious. She wants both Presidential candidates and the Speaker. It surely cannot be that Governor Hendricks in this way seeks to have it known he has given up all hope of the Presidential nomination. - Cincinnati Times

BANDALL'S ELECTION DEPENDS ON PENNSYL-

[From Forney's Sunday Chronicle.] Kerr is being pressed with great vigor, but he is unfortunate in having won the partial favor of the New York press, and by that the money interest of the East. This coming Congress is too fresh from the people to be influenced in any way by the corrupt oney interests of the East, and as its strength is largely from the South and Southwest, it will prove itself too practical for the fine spun theories of Eastern monopolists, and this fact will be all against Mr. Kerr. All this is favorable to the chances of Randall, and in conversation with members who are not committed to either candidate we find our impression pretty generally sustained. Unless new and at present unforeseen nomination of Randall, and that, too, on the second or third ballot. If he can maintain a vote of sixteen or seventeen from his own State he will go into caucus with about sixty-five votes, and on the second or third ballot make up the additional number of twenty to insure his nomination. Besides, there are interests at work for Randall that will only develop a day or two before the caucus meets, and these influences, we think, will decide the contest.

From a party point of view the union of a sufficient number of democrats with the republicans to elect an independent candidate for Speaker would mean nothing less than the break up of the democratic party. He must be a very sanguine republican who expects help of that sort. It would be an act of unspeakable folly for republicans to vote for Mr. Kerr in pursuance of such a plan, unless they could be certain of co-operation sufficient to give them at least a fair chance or success. If the idea is thought worth acting upon there might be no harm in "sounding" democrats deemed most likely to enter into the plan. We feel sure, however, that no encouragement would be given. Democrats are not made of the right stuff to join in schemes of such a nature. It will be seen that this is the purely practical view of the case. Unless the republicans can be sure that they will gain something-either a positive victory or a weakening of their opponents by voting for a democrat—they certainly ought to vote for Mr. Blaine. And we have yet to learn that there is one democrat in the new House who will say that if Mr. Randall is nominated for Speaker he will vote against him. Moreover, we doubt if there is such a member. Did not Mr. Thurman vote for Governor Allen?

THIRD TERM NOTES.

The Sandy Hill Herald is against the third term.

That settles it .- Troy Budget (rep.) The third term project is uncommonly lively just now .- Jacksonville (Fla.) Union (dem.) We believe that Grant can compel his party to ac cept him .- Shreveport (La.) Times (dem.) Grant has done well," says the Sandy Hill Herald.

Why not let "well enough" alone, then .- Troy Budget The people have the unquestioned constitutional right to re-elect him if they choose so to do .- Troy

Budget (rep.) If it be clearly demonstrated that he is the only republican who can be elected to the Presidency, he's our man for the place .- Troy Budget (rep.)

Grant is the man. He has been dictated by necessity, and he is the strongest republican who can be The democracy will have to selected for that position. fight Ulyases S. Grant for a third term .- Cincinnati Enquirer (dem.)

The third term discussion seems to us about as usefui as a last year's fashion plate. As for attempting to carry Pennsylvania for it, we might about as well whiatle jigs to a milestone and expect it to dance .-Philadelphia North American (rep.)

The men who are so dreadfully frightened on this subject are only taking this method to stab in the dark Grant and his administration. They have adopted the Parthian mode of warfare. They fire back poisoned ar, tows while in cowardly fight. - Troy Budget (rep.)

The Presidential election is rapidly approaching. The conventions of the respective parties will be held in five or six months. Where is the candidate who is to beat Seneral Grant for the third term? Where is he spoken st? Who is he? He has not made his appearance .-

Cincinnati Enquirer (dem.) The Evening Journal talks of the nomination of General Grant for a third term as an impossibility. The Journal will have General Grant's name at the head of its columns within six months as a candidate for President in 1876, and will contend he is the only man that can save the nation .- Chicago Industrial Age (granger, The whole matter may be summed up thus :- Grant safter the nomination; the republican party may ac cede it to him, and in such case the great body of indeendent citizens who are against Cæsarism as an ab stract principle, however much they may admire General Grant as an individual, will repudiate him at the polls .- Picche (Nev.)
